

VERMONT WORKING LANDS ENTERPRISE INITIATIVE

Doolittle Farm

Shoreham, VT

Doolittle Farm is a small diversified farm in Shoreham, Vermont. Family run, their farm focuses on producing natural pastured and certified organic products. Many of their customers are familiar with their delicious organic eggs produced from their pastured chickens, but they also have an expanded selection of poultry, lamb, maple syrup and blueberries.

Doolittle Farm would like to renovate an insulated tack room (currently used for storage and egg incubation) into a more useable space for washing, candling and packing eggs. With the purchase of a sink top egg washer, egg-grader, packing table, hot water heater, water softener and necessary plumbing they can create an efficient egg center that will be able to handle our current and projected egg production.
