

VERMONT WORKING LANDS ENTERPRISE INITIATIVE

The Last Resort Farm

Bristol, VT

The Last Resort Farm

The Last Resort Farm is a family-owned, certified organic berry, vegetable, and hay operation on Tyler Bridge Road in Monkton, Vermont. There you'll find strawberries, raspberries, blueberries, currants, and gooseberries. Vegetable specialties start with asparagus in May, include greens, peas, garlic, onions, corn, and tomatoes throughout the summer, and finish the fall growing season with potatoes, beets, squash, and pumpkins.

Aquaponics is the symbiotic production fish and plants featuring both aquaculture and hydroponic components. This project seeks to add a year round element to our production cycle by creating an internal environmentally controlled system that enables production of rainbow trout and strawberries throughout the year, two products that are in constant demand in Vermont. The support we seek will enable us to install a thermostatically controlled system to maintain a constant temperature efficiently throughout the year.
