

VERMONT WORKING LANDS ENTERPRISE INITIATIVE

University of Vermont Extension

Burlington, VT

As Vermont's land-grant college, UVM offers a vast Extension outreach program for our friends across the state. Present in a dozen Vermont communities, Extension provides timely, research-based information and education for the families, communities and businesses of Vermont.

Department of Commercial Elderberry Production in Vermont: UVM Extension Center for Sustainable Agriculture &

Working Lands funds will be used for the development of elderberry production, including an enterprise feasibility analysis, a grower coop feasibility assessment and on farm training workshops.

Total Working Lands Grant: $40,593

Total Matching Funds: $10,419.58